Muy Sres. mios
Me es grato comunicar a Vds el resultado satisfactorio del nuevo examen quimico del 'Fluido Little' que acabo de practicar sobre una muestra de este especifico enviada por Vds a este laboratorio el 12 del corr. y fabricado por Morris Little e Hijo en Inglaterra.
Confrontando el analisis de esta muestra con mi analisis del mismo especifico practicado en Febrero de 1879 encuentro un aumento considerable en su grado de concentracion; su densidad es superior, la proporcion de fenoles contenidos en los aceites es mayor, y en una palabra lo considero no solo superior al producto primitivo, sino el mas concentrado y activo de cuantos de su clase he tenido ocasion de examinar hasta la fecha. Esta observacion se refiere, se entiende, esclusivamente a los especificos contra la sarna, que tienen por base los aceites Hidro carburados y fenoles del alquitran y que no deben su eficacia al arsenico, al azufre, o al tabaco, sustancias que no existen en el 'Fluido Little.' Apesar de su mayor concentracion el Fluido se mescla con el agua fria con la misma facilidad y perfeccion como antes.
Me repito de Vds

CATTLE FARMING.

We believe we may assert that a square league of new good land, with 500 picked cows, is about the best start in this or any other country for a young man who admires country life. Mr. Gallenga, the talented Times' correspondent, has advanced the same opinion; and although many of our countrymen prefer beginning with sheep, it is always to be remembered that, whilst camp for sheep is worth a million per league, camp for cattle is well paid at $150,000 m|c per league.

At the present moment all these new cattle camps are coming very much to the front. North, south and west our countrymen are buying up the lands, and those who have a way of doing it stock their lands, and others wire-fence them. The subject of improved cattle farming is, therefore, one of very great importance to us all, and merits study and attention. President Roca gives it as his opinion that, in view of the great extent of new lands now being stocked, there will be in the Plate, in say 7 years from now, twenty-three million head of horned cattle, which will place this country ahead of all others in that line.

Mr. Alvear has placed in our hands very neatly drawn up tables on this subject, with the object of proving that parties about to start in the cattle estancia business should prefer to buy picked cows of from 3½ to 3 years old each, to buying, as is the custom in the camp 'al corte,' that is to say big and little. The subject is, beyond question, one of the very greatest importance, since, as in previous articles we have pointed out, there is now a species of new departure in estancia land business, and many parties who bought these new lands find them a dead weight, because not having stocked them they yield nothing. But, according to Mr. Alvear's table, 500 picked cows is nothing short of a fortune for any man, and parties about to stock their lands should prefer to buy as Mr. Alvear suggests, to purchasing 'al corte' in the present camp fashion.

The cattle farming or estanciero business in the Plate is so splendid a trade that it needs no exaggeration or puffing for support, and although some of our subscribers who have seen these tables consider that thers is far too much mathematical exactness about them to be relied on, and cows, no matter how good the land or favourable the season, will not procreate with the same regularity as Mr. Alvear marks down, still we give Mr. Alvear's estimates for the benefit of a large portion of our readers who have no practical experience in cattle farms, as the figures will always serve as a guide (10 or 20 per cent. more or less) to show what a league of camp and 500 picked cows will give. In fact any one who can make such a start may count on retiring on £2,000 a year income after the first five years.

Mr. Alvear's tables are much too large for our columns, but we hold them at the disposal of our readers and those who wish to inspect them. Mr Alvear shows that one thousand picked cows give at the end of five years 7200 head of cattle 'al corte.' Supposing that the 1000 picked cows cost $400 m|c each, and a square league of land $150,000, and the ranchos, poblaciones &c. $25,000, we have a capital of four thousand pounds, yielding at the end of five years, in cows alone, say thirteen thousand pounds, whilst the land, which forms a portion of the capital, will, owing to its being refined and having improved in quality, be worth the sum total of the original capital. If in any other part of the world there can be found a business to pay better than this, we hope those who know of it will kindly inform us,

Mr Alvear's estimates are on our table, open to all to inspect.

MONTEVIDEO

Dear Standard

Satire pursues the Sarmiento banquet, and no sarcasm is spared to throw a delicate tinge of irony and odium on the affair. There were too many Argentines in Montevideo at the time to let the auspicious occasion escape, and the banquet is termed a 'bochorno' and a 'bochinche.' The expressions are too eloquent to need comment. Caricatures of Sarmiento are being speedily moulded in the 'peluquerias' and hat-shops, and we expect a 'travestie' of the banquet, with all the eloquent guests, in Carnival. In Montevideo, and the River Plate in general, nothing escapes ridicule. The most sacred feelings are ostracised during the revels of the modern Saturnalia, when pious christianity devoutly bids farewell to meat on the approach of Lent; not even the golden merits, the mellowed experience and grey hairs of a Sarmiento can escape the darts of ridicule and the traditional propensities of the people to throw down their gods once a year. In France ridicule upsets a Government, exiles a Louis-Philippe, and drives men out of the country. Here, a man's reputation grows with the ridicule and abuse heaped on him. Mediocrities escape the scourge and thrive in the blisstul ignorance of the public; should they use or show a spark of genius, all the hounds of scorn and uncalled for abuse and criticism are at their heels: some men are very popular with the people, a sure sign they do not esteem them much.

Montevideo is becoming the rendez-vous of Buenos Ayrean society; several gentlemen and ladies have just arrived, and sea-bathing here reminds one of days gone by when the beach and the Mount resembled Ostende or Trouville, when the eccentric costumes of the fair bathers vied with the colors of the rainbow. Of late Portenos have arrived by scores, which means prosperity in Buenos Aires and increased revenue to the Mount. Montevideo, after all, affords many more natural attractions than B. Aires, where everything is so dirty: you are the very first to acknowledge the truth of the assertion. Here everything may be 'en miniature,' but everything is neat and prim, just as if ladies were on the Municipal benches instead of men gallipoting in law and acids; our streets are clean; the architecture of our buildings is in the Renaissance style, our gardens are tasteful, and our very cemetery is a lesson to Argentines who come to the Queen city. Besides, Montevideo boasts a bull-ring, which, in spite of Porteño sophisms and high-flown, superficial morality, is thronged with Porteños: we have a lottery, ostracised in B. Ayres, and generally totally bought up in your Calle San Martin: there is only one hiatus—we lack a

Monte Carlo, where Porteños can gamble to their heart's delight and throw away their shining Argentinos' fresh from the mint, as they sit round the roulette table: as long as they gamble only their own money no objection could be raised.

The Government, it is rumoured, is again working at the ungrateful task of suppressing the holidays, when we rest from our labors thanking our stars that the rough path of our daily labor is smoothed by the occasional and much desired feastday. The people live under full steam in this country, although they take things easier than in Buenos Ayres, where life is grasping and one perpetual rush from the minute you get up till you go to bed at midnight; the only time you relish the delights of summer is during the cool hours of a moon-light night, after the system has been utterly exhausted reading newspapers, rushing to the Bolsa, swallowing clouds of dust in the tramways, and running to catch the train for dinner during the day; sooner or later the nervous system must give way under the high pressure, and the very idea of hastening the people to the cemetery or to the lunatic asylum by reducing these necessary feast days is simply preposterous. The men in power should remember that not all are presidents, cabinet ministers, and deputies; there are others who work and sweat for their daily bread, whilst they sip their maté, gossip over politics, and after much physical exertion groan under the task of appending their omnipotent signature to the document or petition of some unfortunate man who is perhaps a creditor of the ricketty Government for several years, and has done more to push the country ahead than those clad in the purple of state.

Voltaire

THE CURUMALAN LANDS.

Don Melchor G. Rom.

My esteemed Friend,

I have just arrived from Curumalan, A slight indisposition has deprived me of the pleasure of calling on you to give an account of the survey and its experiences, which were most varied, as the great rains and the fact of part of the land being broken, delayed the survey and made it more difficult; but, by dint of energy and an expenditure which has far exceeded all our calculations, we have successfully accomplished this important job.

Muñiz is preparing the grand map, with subdivision into lots as agreed on. The latter will, in general be of regular form, 2 leagues frontage by 2½ depth, most of them with permanent water. In the few on which there is no surface water, it can be obtained at 2 yards' depth, in such abundance, and of such excellent quality, that the absence of 'arroyos' is of no importance whatever. On the other hand, the streams from the Sierras are more numerous than those marked on your map, as, besides the Sauce Chico, Sauce Corto, 27 de Deciembre, Pique, Hinopal, Curumalan, Caeheleofú, Pescado, &c., there is another stream called the Arroyo Corto, and splendid 'lagunas,' such as the Indio, Las Toscas, &c.

I have, therefore, the great satisfaction of confirming all that I said to you some time ago in reference to the quality of these lands and their splendid waters. They are the best in all the south of this province. You must know that I am not alone in holding this opinion, but am borne out by men like Colonel Olascoaga and Ebelot the engineer, who have examined these camps foot by foot.

The first-named, in the book he has just published, says that all the streams flowing from the Sierras of Curumalan, are pure and crystalline, in remarkable contrast with the salty pools round Guamini, into which they flow. The second affirms that the zone embraced by my concession is covered with a quantity of phosphate of lime, which imparts extraordinary vigour to vegetation, and greater size, weight and stamina to the animals fed on it.

I will add what I have seen myself. In many parts of these lands, on digging for the purpose of pulling down boundary posts, or for other things, before reaching the soil itself, we had to remove from two to five inches of matted herbage. Muñiz's letter to you, of which I have received a copy, mentions all these advantages possessed by the camps of my concession.

He informs you 'that it is the richest piece of land in the province in respect to a permanent supply of water and of soft grass.' I need not enter, therefore, into any details regarding these points, but I feel bound to repeat that there is not in all these camps even a fraction that could be called middling: all is good or superior. At present there are some 30,000 head of cattle and about as many sheep on it. When they were driven here they were all miserably thin from 'epidemia': now they are bursting with fat; yet the curious part of it is that there does not appear to be a single animal on the land. The sinuosities of the land and the abundance of pasturage in the valleys cause the animals to prefer the shelter and soft grasses which the latter afford, and they remain there, as if hidden.

I have returned from my trip firmly convinced that this affair is not only a good one for me, but also an excellent one for the country and all who take shares in it in the shape you have given to it. This gives me double satisfaction—first, as is very natural, because I want to obtain a recompense for my foresight and exertions, and secondly, because my idea of improving our breed of horses will be realized, which is a matter of the very highest importance for the country.

On the day when, with the 50,000 criolla mares on the land which the concession obliges me to keep on it, the 10,000 which I consider enough for crossing (100 mares for each foreign stallion) are selected, we shall have in prospect 10,000 more mestizo colts or fillies every year, which, in their turn, will serve for more advanced crossing.

As you will remember, I have only bound myself to introduce 100 thoroughbred stallions and an equal number of blood mares; and, as no man who understands these things can imagine that one stallion can properly serve 500 mares, 100 must therefore be selected for each stallion, and these will be the only ones kept on each league of camp, as, the selection once made, the presence of the others would be a source of confusion and even prejudice the crossing, which during the first years, will be between the foreign blood stallions and the selected criolla mares, without prejudice to the former serving also the 100 blood mares which I have bound myself to import, with the view of breeding stallions to replace the first comers, which will then be available for putting to the mestiza and criolla mares.

In this way, it will not be 50,000 mares that will have to be kept on the 100 leagues of camp, but only 10,000, or 100 on each league, an insignificant number which can in no way interferfere with the success of the business, either through the care they will require or the money they will cost. On the other hand, the shape you have put it into, and which, as I have told you, completes my plans, is the most practical and expedient that could possibly have been adopted.

The subscribers will join to purchase the right of carrying out the obligations of the contract, naming a Board to represent them in their relations with the Government and the concessionaire, and also see that each one of themselves complies with the obligations which he partially assumes.

In this way, without infringing in the least the object of the law, which is to foment the populating of these lands and the improvement of the breed of horses, the business is possible, each subscriber selecting his own property and retaining perfect freedom of action, once he has fulfilled his part of the obligations entered into.

I see you have made an alteration, which I consider a good one, in imposing on each purchaser of five leagues the obligation to introduce five foreign families, thus raising the seventy specified in the contract to 100, or a family for each league.

I consider this idea a very good one indeed, and have no manner of doubt that within the term we shall see a flourishing pastoral and agricultural settlement established in those fertile regions, and a beneficent change effected both for the country and the private interests of those who carry it out.

Yours sincerely,

Angel Plaza Montero.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The French steamer Poitou entered Montevideo yesterday with European dates to 15th ult. Terrible floods have occurred in Granada. A conspiracy to murder King Humbert on his way to Calabria was discovered in Naples. Numbers were arrested for complicity.

A few days more of such heat as yesterday, and River Plate humanity will be shrivelled into mummies, or fried in its own fat. 98 Fahrt. in the shade is an unpleasantly suggestive temperature for those who are not exactly prepared to 'shuffle off,' of which event there is imminent danger, if the present killing heat continue.

The subjects of the late Hibernian Sovereign of Araucania—His Majesty King O'Reilly, erroneously spelt Orelie—are again on the move. Telegrams from Santiago say that the same band of 300 savages that massacred the Argentine garrison of a small fort on the Nauquen last week, have also sacked and destroyed the Argentine forts Guanacos and Chosamabal, only two soldiers escaping with life from the first named place. In addition to this raid on Argentine territory, the Chilians have had a still more formidable visit from the 'braves,' who have destroyed all the line of forts between Angol and Linares, burst into the grain districts, burned all the crops, and carried pillage and massacre in all directions. This is most serious news. But for our little domestic squabble in June last, and Chile's resorting to 'the last argument of Kings' to convince Peru and Bolivia, neither country would have had to withdraw its troops from the frontiers, and the 'untutored savage' would have remained at home. The Araucania Family Abroad are something worse than a nuisance.

The official report of the health of this city for the past fortnight is good, although the excessive heat has led to an increase in bowel complaints and skin diseases. It is announced from Brazil that the yellow fever is not bad this year, and that medical skill has saved a much larger proportion of those attacked that in previous years. What about the infallible cure for this dread disease which the fair harpist, Esmeralda Cervantes, is said to have discovered?

The officers of the Flying Squadron were terribly disappointed when the gunboat Swallow overtook it at the Falklands with the order to steer Capewards in all haste. Most of them were on shore shooting when the Swallow arrived with the despatches for Lord Clanwilliam, and in ten minutes a signal gun from the Inconstant recalled them to their ships, and before evening the Squadron was steaming for the Cape. The Princes had not time to land at all, and the Stanley girls were 'fit to be tied'. The Governor had issued invitations for a grand ball for the Princes, and at first it was feared it would not come off after their departure; but it did, and was very jolly, the officers of H.M.S. Garnet and Swallow being present.

Commodore Cordero writes a most interesting letter to the Minister of War, describing his visit to Portsmouth. He visited the docks, arsenal, ironclads Dreadnought, Inflexible and others, and some troopships, the Serapis, in which the Prince of Wales went to India, evidently exciting his wonder as well as admiration. After all, old England is the only place to see a war navy in perfection.

There is a great deal of talk about starting the Lottery again. If it must be done, it should by no means be farmed to private contractors or any Beneficencia or other society be allowed to meddle with it. Let the Municipality work it itself, or let it alone. The system of 'farming' or middlemen, is an essentially bad one in official dealings, where taxes or money in any shape is concerned. The Fermiers Geueraux of France brought about the great Revolution.

A crowd of distinguished passengers have returned this week from Montevideo, Ex-President Sarmiento, Mr. Tornquist, Mr. Hardy and many others amongst them. They report Montevideo very crowded with fashion, and bathing going on at all hours. The French bathing costumes are very pretty. The only news stirring in the Mount is, that a prominent member of Buenos Airean society is about to lead to the Hymeneal altar one of the gems of our foreign society. The bathing going on at Pocitos is something wonderful: over 6,000 people there on Sunday last. Colonel Mansilla had a narrow escape: He jumped off the spring-board out of his depth, made an effort to struggle towards the spar placed for the assistance of those who do not know how to swim, sank twice, and would inevitably have touched bottom (and remained there) the third time, but for an Oriental officer who swam to him and pulled him to shore. We hear that a number of our English and German subscribers intend going down to the Mount for some bathing. We feel rather nervous about them and hope they will bear Colonel Mansilla's escape in mind and stick to the spar like leeches, if they do not know how to swim. It is a sad pity that a decent bathing-place cannot be got up near B. Aires. We have no half-and-half briny, as they have at Montevideo; but it any enterprising speculator would build a Kursaal or Coaversation House, with a grand hotel, on the Brighton or Bray model, and place proper accommodation at the Tigre, we venture to say it would be a paying speculation from October to April every year.

People are very anxious for some more news about the row in the House of Commons and the Greek business; but Havas's telegram in another column is only about a change of Ministers in Spain, which may be of great interest to Spaniards here (although we doubt it) but is of none to the general public.

The South Pole people postponed their intended meeting last night, owing to the awful heat of the weather. According to our peripatetic friend Mr McDonnell, it is far hotter at the South Pole than here; and such things as kettles are unknown there, as the water in the rivers is always boiling, ready for shaving or making tea or punch at a moment's notice.

Bahia Blanca is coming to the front with a rush like a Derby winner. Two hundred passengers for there by the Villariuo on Monday means much, and the nomination of Commissioners by the National Government, to have the port improvedand buoyed, means more; and last not least, a weekly paper called the Porvenir has started. We are doubtful as to whether we can conscientiously wish this new colleague either health or prosperity, as its programme says that it 'wont meddle in politics, if it can help it.' We dont like this 'vorrei e non vorrei' way of coquetting with the bane of the country. Bahia Blanca is rising fast, but a political newspaper would play Old Harry with it.

Valentine's Day will be upon us in quick-sticks, and young men and maidens who have soft things to say (ready made to their hand) cannot do better than go at once to Jacobsen's book-store, 242 Calle Florida We have passed the time for any valentines but subscriptions in advance, still our young readers would not mind just a little one from 'somebody' they know. Next Monday will be the day to look out for a dose of the tender, or it may be the ridiculous: we must say the sublime is more welcome. However, it is time to be on the alert in whatever shape it is meant to commemorate the jolly day,

Poor Paraguay does not seem to be such a pauper as many suppose. So late as 1875 the stock of cattle in the country was only 60,000. Now it is 500,000, a very respectable increase in six years.

Advices from the north of Banda Oriental have been received, stating that the camps have been eaten as bare as a bald head by the locusts. Not a blade of grass or leaf on a tree is to be seen for leagues round.

THE PHOTOPHONE.

(Concluded)

After these experiments, so successful and suggestive, Professor Bell was struck with the thought that Selenium, being so sensitive to light, might itself give forth sound when subjected to rapidly alternating light and shadow. This idea was founded upon the well-known fact that an intermittent current of electricity will produce a sound in a mass of iron which can be heard by placing the ear in close contact with it, This is supposed to be due to molecular changes produced by the electricity in rendering the iron magnetic. The question now was, will interrupted light produce audible molecular changes in Selenium? Several experiments were tried without any definite result. But some anomalous behaviour of the hard rubber screen in a previous experiment, mentioned above, led Professor Bell to try it instead of Selenium. This was a remarkable success. By simply holding a sheet of hard rubber in close contact with his ear, while an interrupted beam of light was focussed upon it by a lens, a distinct musical note was heard. The hard rubber, arranged as a diaphragm over the end of a hearing-tube, increased the effect. Selenium in the form of a disc gave a similar but less intense effect. Of all substances as yet tried antimony gives the strongest effect: next to it comes hard rubber; while paper and mica produce the weakest sounds.

This is indeed a very remarkable discovery. It amounts to this, that a shadow can be heard. This last discovery has reduced the Photophone to great simplicity. It does not appear certain that the hearing-tube with the rubber disc has been used as as a receiver to the vibrating mirror; but if it be as sensitive as the Selenium cell in circuit with the telephone, we shall readily possess a speedy means of communication with very simple apparatus The vibrating mirror with the strong light concentrated on it and when reflected again rendered parallel by another lens will constitute the transmitter, and the parabolic reflector at the distant station, condensing the beam of light upon the hard rubber diaphragm at the end of a small hearing-tube, will be all that is required for the receiver.

The discovery is yet in its infancy. What important practical results may ensue is not easy to forecast The necessary privacy of Professor Bell's researches has prevented any experiments to test the limit of distance to the Photophonic influence. It is not unlikely that it will extend as far as a beam of light can be reflected. Hitherto light has only appealed to the Eye: it is quite bewildering to find that it now is brought within the range of the Ear. How such a subtle agency as light can convey sonorous vibrations and impart them to solid substances remains entirely unexplained. It is by Light that we now possess a 'chemistry of the stars', The rays from a star, examined by a Spectroscope, will reveal facts about its composition. May it not be expected that this new discovery may afford entrance into a new field of Astronomy?

It is pleasant to reflect that Professor Graham Bell was first led into this line of enquiry by the great interest he took in teaching the deaf and dumb. It was his desire to discover means of helping them that resulted in the Telephone and it in turn has led to his latest and most wonderful invention—the Photophone.

Thus a genius specially trained in the service of the afflicted has alighted on discoveriee that enlarge the horizon of the whole race.

ON 'CHANGE.

	Feb. 9th, 1881
Patacons	29.30
Cedulas A	90
National Bank Shares	74½
Prov. Treasury Bonds	98
Bonos	½ premium
Banco Italia	13 prem. gold

The gold market rules very steady; prices opened at 29.30, dropped to 29.25, and closed at 29.35; the cash sales amounted to 111,250; the principal business of the day was for the end of the month, over half a million sold at the same prices as for cash. The sales of the day amounted to 751,750.

Cedulas rose to-day to 90, and continue very firm, one sale made for the end of July at 88.

In Nat. Bank shares there is the decided evidence of a growing speculation; prices only advanced ½, but they hold that advance, and there was great talk on Change of a large purchase yesterday of over one thousand shares, but when the buyer was about to note the business the seller stated that the price was 84, which, of course, was out of the question; parties interested in the stock point to the matter as showing the market current. There was not much done in the stock to-day but prices rule very firm at 74½, cash and 74½ for end of month.

Bonos Provinciales are now ½ premium as many parties, owing to the scarcity of other stocks, are buying these bonds for their high interest.

Italian Bank shares rank second to none in the market and we note many buyers, but holders ask 15 prem. gold; one sale to-day 12 shares at 13 gold. Treasury bills firm at 98.

Exchange gave way somewhat to-day, and the banks put down their rates to 49⅝, francs were passed at 5.25.

We call the attention of the Western Railway board to a complaint by the merchants that in the notice published calling for bids to supply materials for the Western Railway branch to Pergamino sufficient time is not allowed to correspond with European firms, as the 15th March is too near except to do business by telegram.

The branch of the Provincial Bank at Lujan is doing famously, and the deposits and drafts show a constant growth. The opening of the bank there has proved a move in the right direction.

The heat to-day was worse than yesterday, and as the rain which threatened yesterday appears to have gone, people look for a continuance of the present very hot weather.

All parties in favor of good health and a long life and prosperity in business must attend the general Bolsa meeting on 16th, to insist on the carrying out of the present early closing rule of the Bolsa. Some few barraqueros would keep the place open till 9 o'clock if they could, but the commerce of Buenos Ayres demands the closing of the Bolsa at 4 o'clock sharp. Later on the brokers can, if they will, assemble at Burgos's.

We call attention to the estimates for cattle-farming of which we treat in our leading columns. Mr Alvear's tables do not seem to be very far out of the way when we learn than an estanciero who received 3000 picked cows sold at the end of three years, to close the business, 9000 cows al corte. The party who bought the cows gave us the figures. The estancia in question is in the Partido of Salto.

The Province of Buenos Ayres has, according to the Minister's message, one thousand square leagues yet to sell, which H.E. thinks represents a value of say one hundred and fifty millions currency.

The half of the annual profits of the Western Railway are estimated at 9 millions currency, and the annual sum required for the service of the new B.A. 4-per-cents to be paid to the bank is say from 15 to 16 millions currency.

A well-known French house received a telegram to-day ordering a suspension of all orders to buy wool, and, moreover, to re-sell the wools, even at a loss, that within the last few days had been bought for their account.

Another exporter received a telegram yesterday from Bordeaux announcing sheepskins down 15 centimes. The news from Europe could not be more unfavorable.

Telegrams from Rio give exchange down and sovereigns up.

On Saturday another party leaves for the Venado Tuerdo, and it is probable that next week the land will be covered with intrusos from town, as several sheep farmers, who called at our office, intend buying a league each. Any person wishing to join the excursion will find the party at Rojas on Saturday night, which will prove a great convenience for those who make their first trip to these fine lands, which are within 15 leagues of Rojas, and of these 15 leagues, the traveller for 9 leagues is crossing through the camps owned by Irish estancieros. As it may interest many, we give the following list of Irish estancias from Rojas to the Venado Tuerto:—

	Square leagues.
Thos. and John Gahan	14
Casey	13
J Browne	6
Ham	6
Morgan	4
Ballasty	1½
J Murphy	2
P Murphy	½
T Keernan	½
Plummer	1½
W Mu'ally	½
M Murray	3

With the exception of Mr Ballasty and Mr Murphy not a league of the above, 3 years ago, was held by our countrymen. This shows how rapidly this department is growing, and lands have more than doubled in value since our countrymen went there.

The Journal du Havre publishes the full particulars of the failure of Messrs Funcke & Co. it appears that it has been a very heavy business and the banks in France let heavily in.

The auction of the Pardo quinta amounted to nothing, no bid, postponed to 20th.

As the 28th Feb. will be high Carnival, it is proposed to close the month's liquidation on Saturday 26th Feb.; a very capital move.

The friends who went off to the Guadiana to see passengers off, only got back at ½ past 2 o'clock this morning.

Gold at afterhours ruled at 29.30 buyers, and not much done.

The bulk of the business at afterhours was in National Bank Shares; one or two brokers with orders from outsiders bought for cash and end of month, and this at once put a stir in the market; fully 600 shares bought up at 75 and 76½, and market closed buyers. The Committee to inspect the accounts of the bank has finished its labors, and we hear reports that the bank is in condition to pay four patacons gold div. per share, and at the meeting to be held on 16th a dividend of 4 pats. per share will be recommended. This and many other matters talked of on 'Change respecting the splendid position of this bank has induced outsiders to buy the stock, as the one of most future in this market at present. Wagers were offered on 'Change that before the end of March the stock would be at 85, and at the meeting of Congress in May at par.

It was announced on Change that last night the judge embargoed the exchange shop along side the Bolsa of Sr Moreno.

Nat. Bonds two sales reported, one lot 5000 at 84, and another lot 20,000 at 84½.

At the meeting, held at the British Consulate to-day of the trustees &c of the British Cemetery, a new board of trustees was elected, the following gentlemen Messrs W Wilson, Runciman, Tucker and Krabbe. We hope the new board will see that the grounds are better kept.

Messrs Forrester & Co. sold to-day a cargo of Cardiff coal at 10 cash to arrive; a cargo New Castle at 10½ outer roads; and another at 11 pats to arrive in Boca without discount.

Mr Moores, the new produce consignatario in the South market, was congratulated on some large sales of wool effected this morning owing to Mr Moores's wide connection he will doubtless do a very large business.

Messrs Forrester & Co. sold to-day 8000 bundles of fencing wire at reserved rate; the sales of wire in this market are so large that they astonish everyone.

Exchange this afternoon ruled 49½ drawers.

The Gorostiaga estancia is not yet rented, it is 1½ leagues, all wired, and price asked 200,000 m/c per year, Mr L Billinghurst has the renting of the place.

The article in the Nacion this morning on the railways in this Republic attracted much note, as well written and useful.

Discount brokers report money abundant, and rates easy, perhaps in no other market could produce representing 1½ millions sterling be so easily carried. They say on 'Change that one consignatario holds in deposit wool representing 80 millions currency.

Nothing whatever to report in salted hides, the hide brokers say they never before remember so queer a season, selling nothing they spend the day walking about the Bolsa, smoking pap'r cigars and talking politics. Yet although there is a dead look in hides, we learn from the camp that large sales of novillos are being effected, so that perhaps soon the saladeristas will begin to kill in real earnest.

We have received several answers to our commission question, which we hold for our next.

The Sales at afterhours were—

Gold—
For cash 40,000 29.35
For Febr. 28th 25,000 29.30-35
For March 31st 80,000 29.25

The following is a translation of the proposed law sent by the Executive to the Chambers for the funding of the debt due by the Province to the Bank:—

Art. 1—Let there be issued 265 millions currency of Public Funds for the consolidation of the debt due by the Province to the Bank.

Art. 2—These Bonds shall have 4 per cent interest and 2 per cent amortization, accumulative, by drawing at par every 6 months.

Art. 3—The Government will liquidate its account with the Bank including interest up to March 1st, and pay these Bonds over to the Bank to satisfy the entire indebtedness.

Art. 4—For the special service of these Bonds the half of the profits of the Western Railway, and the proceeds of the sales of Public Lands, shall be specially appropriated.

Art. 5—The Director of the Western Railway shall every month deposit in the Bank the half of the profits, and the Provincial Government shall annually deposit in the Bank the proceeds of the sales of Public Lands up to the amount of 7 millions currency, or land pagarés for the amount, and if these do not reach the required sum the Bank is authorised to cover the deficit by taking from the amounts appropriated by law 30th Oct., 1872, for General Revenue, and pass to the credit of the Government whatever the surplus.

Art. 6—The Bank, from the Fund specified, shall attend to the punctual service of these Bonds, keeping a special account therefore of the moneys received from the Western Railway and from the Government.

Art. 7—The Bank shall credit to the interest account whatever sums it receives in anticipation.

Art. 8—If by any circumstance the Funds set apart for the service of these Bonds should fall short, then such service to be made from the General Revenue.

Art. 9—Any Bonds remaining over after liquidating the amount due to the Bank to be destroyed.

Our Boca Correspondent gives the following—

In spite of the very unfavorable advices from the European wool market the transactions of the month may be considered important; a great quantity of wool, nevertheless, is sent to deposit, as the holders will not accept the buyers' rates. There is a marked tendency in prices towards a further fall, and we believe, if the holders of the large stock gave way, there would arise a great activity amongst the many buyers in the market. There is little doing in salted hides and tallow; two vessels were chartered to load tallow at Peysandu and Casa Bianca; two others at Tuyu and one in harbour. The article is in demand, but the saladeros do not display much activity. The cereals crop promises well, and we may expect increased activity should the fine weather continue. Freights have fallen during the month; only regular steamers find cargo whilst many others must leave in ballast. Sailing vessels' freights are nominal.

B. Aires, Feb. 9th, 1881.

My dear Standard,

In giving the calculation which appeared in your issue of this morning I make the original transaction $f.12,126.22 as to the correctness of which I am prepared to be put to the test of proving it.

Yours respectfully,

THE NEW GOLD MINES.

INTENSE EXCITEMENT IN CHILE

ALL THE WORLD TO THE MINES.

In my previous letter I gave you some particulars respecting the gold discovery in this department. Subsequently I sent you a telegram informing you of the discovery of a reef of gold-bearing quartz. As the excitement was increasing day by day, I resolved to make a trip to the gold field, partly to satisfy my own curiosity, and partly to furnish you with particulars obtained on the spot. Not having any time at my disposal on working days, I took advantage of the holidays on the 1st and 2nd to make the journey. I left Lebu at 10 a.m. On the previous day it had rained, consequently the road was slippery and in bad condition for travelling. At the expiration of three hours and a half I arrived at a place called Los Alamos, where there is a 'posada' kept by Don Medardo Reyes, at which refreshments can be obtained. From this point to the gold fields there is a three hours' journey at a regular pace. Three-fourths of the road can be performed in a conveyance, but the remainder can only be done on horseback. After ascending, to some distance, the first cordon of the Nahuelbuta hills, the whole of the great valley of Cañete and Lebu is presented to view. The panorama is splendid. It may be compared to an immense English park dotted with trees, with here and there wood and patches of verdure and of yellow corn. It extends to the east beyond the range of vision: on the north it is closed in by a chain of hills which must be that of Lebu. From this point the road is through good, and the journey has to be performed at a walking pace, the ground being covered with roots. If the first part of the road is picturesque, this is very beautiful. Notwithstanding the fatigue experienced after a journey of four hours and a half on horseback, which is the time required from Lebu to the first cordon of hills, it is impossible not to admire the majestic appearance of the forest. After entering the wood the sun is only seen from time to time, the thick foliage completely shutting out his rays except at long intervals. The overhanging branches are high enough to be out of the way of the traveller. Towards the bottom of the hill the forest is open, but the ground is covered with 'quilo,' whose light green color forms a beautiful contrast with the dark green foliage of the trees; the latter are of considerable height, and I saw trunks that it would take four or five men to span. The forest becomes more and more dense as the gold-field is approached, and before reaching it two very steep 'cuestas' have to be passed, which, however, can be descended on horseback. On arriving at the last 'quebrada,' and on commencing the descent, a perfect hive of people is seen below, going and coming in all directions, and the sounds of popular ditties reach the ear. The impression one receives is fantastical. To see at the bottom of a deep 'quebrada' a multitude of persons mixed among trunks of trees, and to hear popular songs proceeding from an apparently impenetrable forest, savours of a dream or of fairy tales. The settlement is finally reached. It consists of about a hundred cabins made of dry grass or boards after the style of 'ramadas,' a few only being closed in on three sides. Nine-tenths of the huts are 'fondas' with their corresponding 'cantoras,' whose strident voices never cease in the air from four in the afternoon till six on the morning of the following day. I cannot imagine how the women stand it, but, perhaps, their style of singing through the nose has something to do with it. After leaving off work the miners repair to the 'fondas,' and at the conclusion of a song, deposit a piece of gold on the guitar. All these singing women have a good quantity of gold. Shortly after arriving we started on a tour of inspection through the 'quebrada.' Thanks to D Francisco Mendez Urrejola, owner of the property on which the mines are situated, the ground can be traversed without difficulty, he having burnt off much of the forest and undergrowth. The miners have also accomplished a good deal in the way of clearing. As I informed you in my previous letter, a small stream runs at the bottom of the 'quebrada,' and the width of the latter at the gold-washings is about twenty varas and some places a little more. In a length of about six cuadras, the bottom of the 'quebrada' is full of holes from which gold has been taken out. From enquiries I made, I came to the conclusion that forty thousand doll. worth of gold had been taken out and that the greater part have found its way to the 'fondas.' At the termination of the 6 cuadras, already referred to, there is a waterfall of about 6 metres in height, and it is at the foot of this cascade that the quartz reef I mentioned in my telegram has been discovered. The reef runs north and south, and appears to be a third of a vara in width. According to assays made by señor Soto Aguilar, the quartz contains a small quantity of gold, but as the pieces assayed were taken from the top it is presumed that further in the ley will improve. It may be safely affirmed that the washiugs are rich and extensive. Pieces of gold have been taken out which are really nuggets. Don Francisco Ovalle O. has one weighing 13oz., and in Cañete there is one, purchased from Don Reimundo Rodriguez, weiging 15oz. Pieces of 4 and 6oz. are very abundant. All the pieces of upwards of an ounce, and even less, are mixed with quartz, and I have seen a piece of quartz weighing from four to five ounces, with threads of gold. The circumstance that the largest lumps of gold, and the greatest quantity, has been obtained near to the reef indicates that it must be very rich. Many 'quebradas' have been prospected, and gold in greater or lesser quantities, but always extremely abundant, has been found in all of them. Yesterday morning I washed two 'bateadas', and obtained upwards of a dollar's worth of gold. I thought I had made a big 'find', but I was told that I had done very poorly. The system now observed is the following i—A hole is dug to the bed rock, which is found at depths varying from half a metre to four metres. The soil is cleared off, and washed in a 'batea' at the stream Others use a washer, in the shape of a canoe, in which they wash from four to ten 'bateadas' at a time. Both sytems are, of course very imperfect, and much gold is thrown away in the tailings. But all this will be changed very shortly. Don Francisco Ovalle has bought a machine, and Don Antonio Yusef another, and others will soon follow. The latter, or rather his company, of which Rodriguez and Soto Aguilar form part, are the discoverers of the reef, and they are about to commence operations on an extensive scale. In yesterday's steamer forty passengers arrived, among them Mr Lacourt, manager of the branch of the Valparaiso Bank in Concepcion, and I suppose that they intend to commence operations forthwith. Lawsuits are already beginning, and it is probable that if the gold continue to be found in abundance, lawyers will reap a rich harvest.

The Revista del Sur says:—'Various telegrams have been received in Concepcion from Lebu announcing new discoveries of gold every day. Some miners working on a quartz lode have brought in a piece of gold weighing 21oz. A cartman washed a few days ago and returned with 60 dollars' worth of gold.' The same paper, in its issue of the 8th says:—'Several persons have arrived to-day from the gold mines. They say the discovery is surprisingly rich. They bring a considerable quantity of gold. Don Juan Fuentes has brought some pieces of gold as curiosities, and they have been valued at a hundred dollars. The party will soon return to the mines. They have come to purchase tools, &c.'—Chilian Times.

Un par de eclisas sin tornillos debera entregarse para cada riel, cualquiera que sea su longitud.

Deberan las superficies de contacto con el riel apitarse con exactitud, para lo que se exigira una prolija fabricacion.
